

Little Miss
Gullible

The weather outside is terrible. It's only rain and storm. Little Miss Gullible didn't want to go out that day.

She rather grabbed her phone and was on social media. This way she could pass the time way better than just staring at the rain outside.

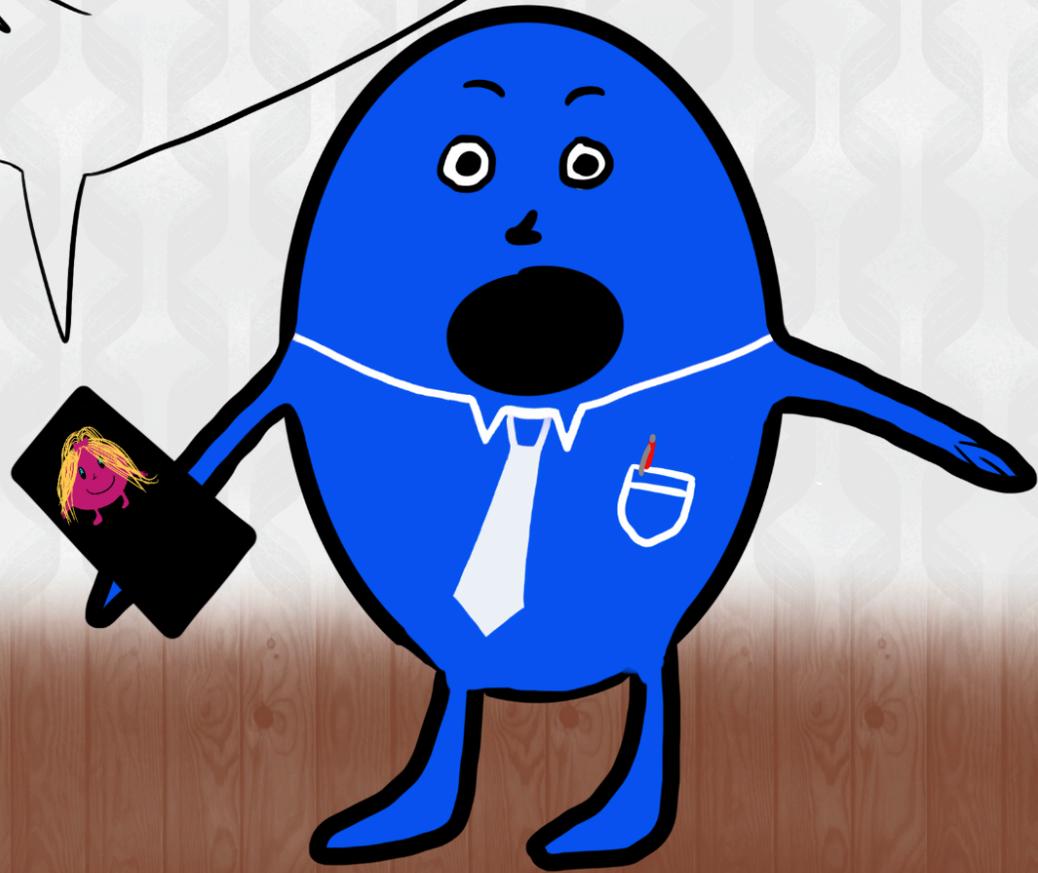

Little Miss Gullible loves being on social media. She likes to read all the news and see what's new in the world. Unfortunately, she sometimes comes across websites where no one really knows where the news are coming from.

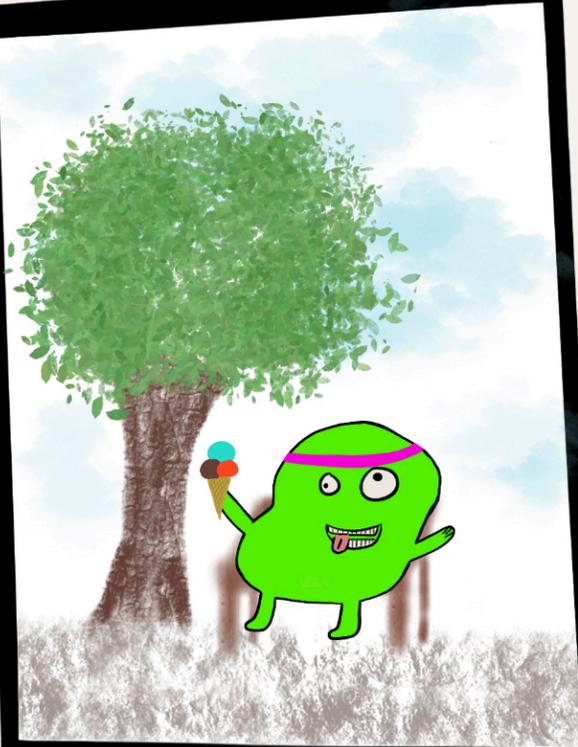

She read the first article she found very carefully. "Russia against the whole world. Putin now also wants to attack Germany and China" it said. What else could little miss Gullible do but believe it immediately? Shocked and full of panic, little Miss Gullible calls her friend Mr. Political. She tells him the news and Mr. Political also panics and hangs up.

The next post she reads is about little Miss Sporty who seems to have put on a lot of weight. There is even a picture to be seen with a round belly and ice cream in her hand, enjoying it. And what is little Miss Gullible going to do next? Exactly! Overwhelmed, little miss Gullible calls her and asks her if everything is all right with her.

latest News: little Miss sporty in another way 🤔

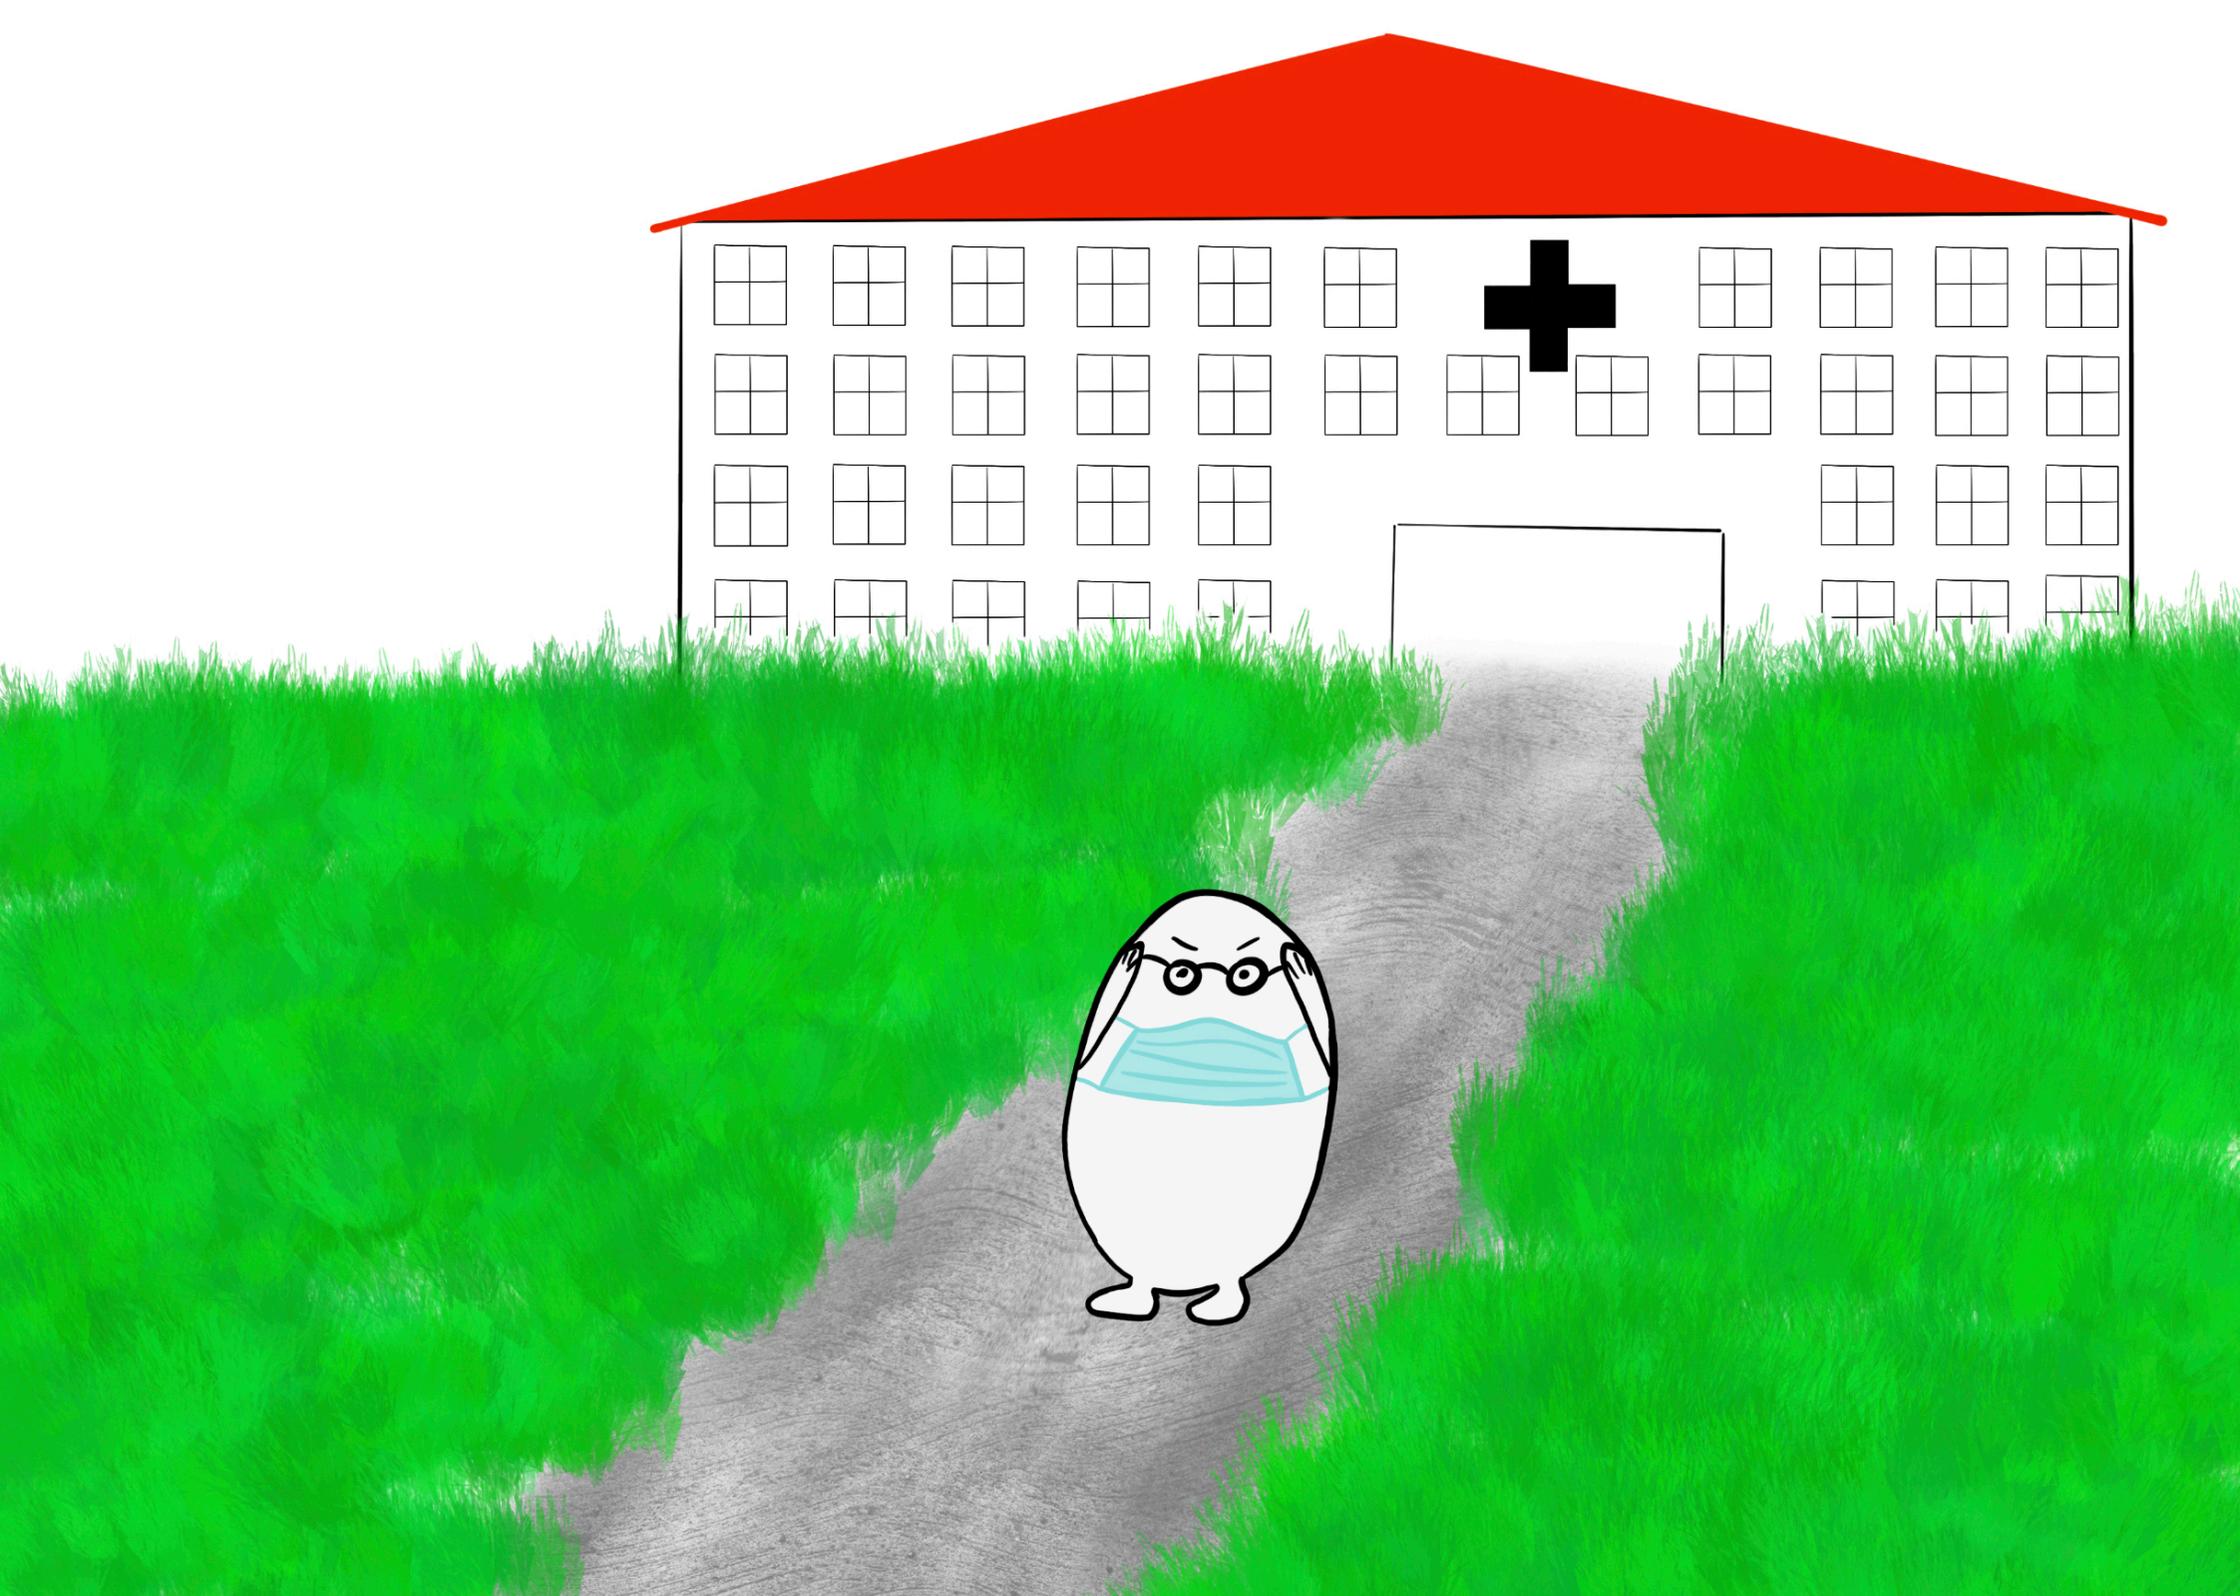

On the phone little Miss Sporty sounds quite out of breath, because she is doing sport. When little miss Gullible sends her the article about her, little Miss Sporty falls off her run out of shock and the connection breaks.

Little Miss Gullible doesn't really mind and continues reading. "Terrible side effects in the 4th Covid-19 vaccination, everyone is shocked".

Little Miss Gullible immediately calls Mr. Overcautious and tells him about the terrible news. "Oh no??? What am I going to do now???" stutters Mr. Overcautious. He had his 4th vaccination just yesterday, full of fear and horror he hangs up the phone and rushes to the hospital.

Little Miss Gullible makes nothing out of it and continues to read the news on social media. At the last post she starts to cry.

"May little Miss Happy rest in heaven" it says.

Little Miss Happy was little Miss Gullible's best friend. Together they went through thick and thin.

Because little Miss Gullible also believes this message immediately, She calls little Miss Happy's parents to offer her condolences.

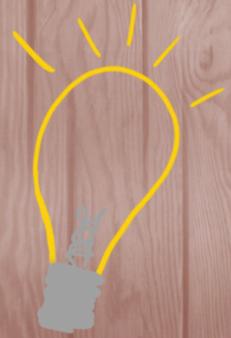

"But she's upstairs in her room watching Netflix" said little Miss Happy's mother.

Little Miss Gullible mouth remains open because she does not know what to say. "Then why is it on the internet?" asked little Miss Gullible.

"Honey, you can't believe everything you read on the internet," said little Miss Happy's mother.

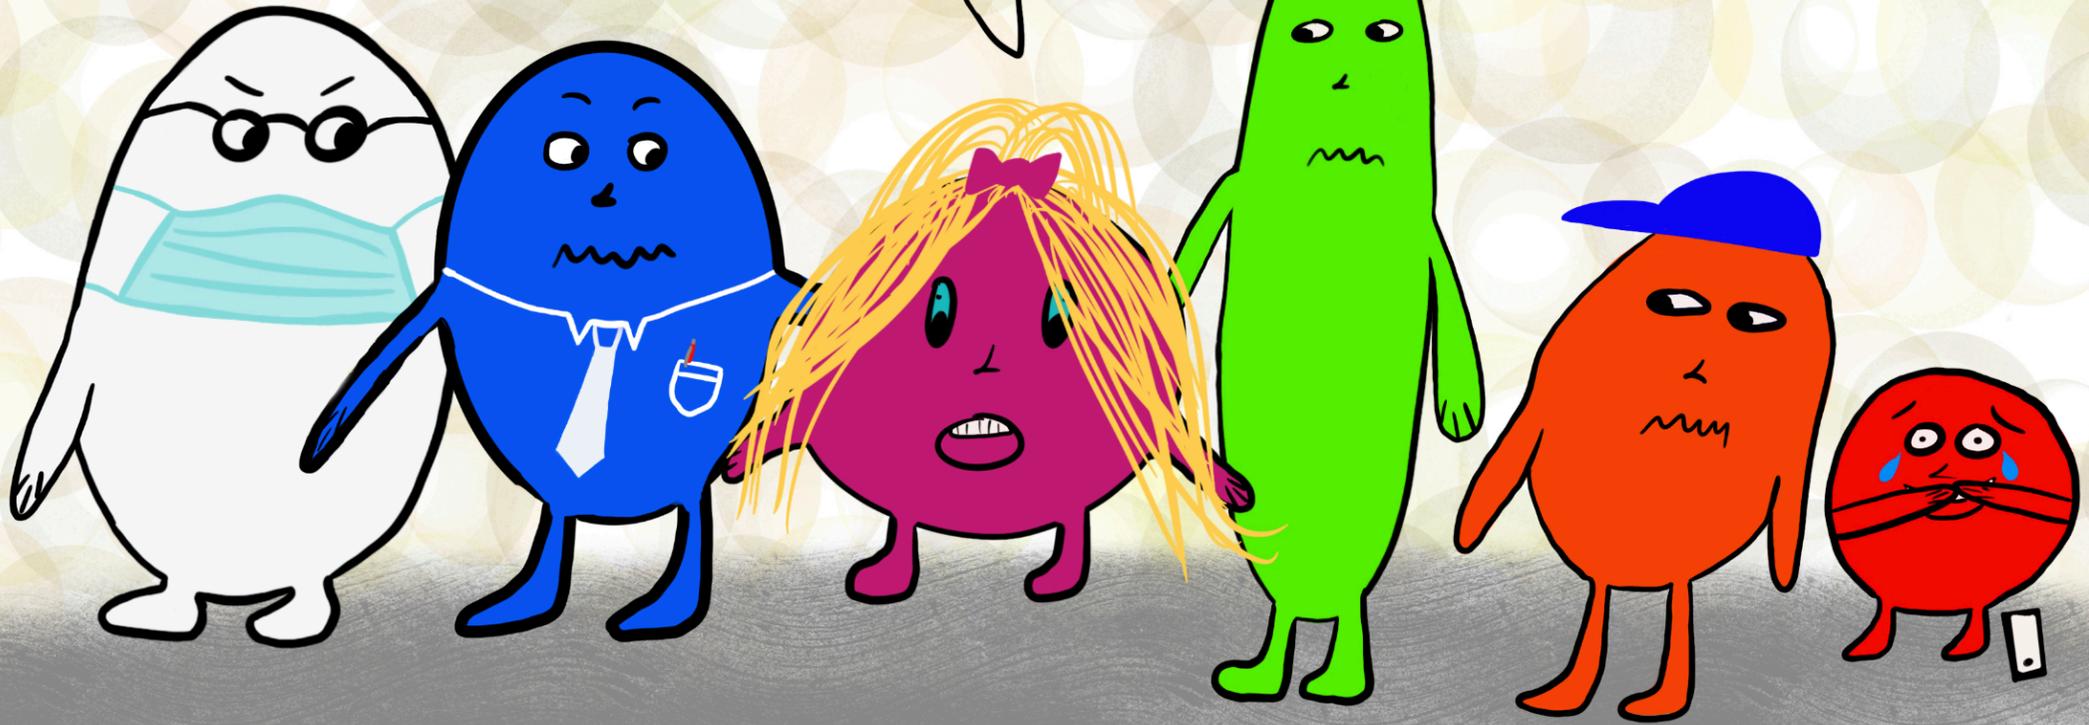

Then it suddenly dawned to little Miss Gullible.

Immediately afterwards, she called Mr. Helper and asked for an emergency meeting of her village. Everyone gathered. Mr. Political, little Miss Sporty with her broken leg, Mr. Overcautious, little Miss. Happy, little Miss Gullible, Mr. Helper and Mr. Liar.

Little Miss Gullible talks about the terrible news she has read on the internet, which all seemed to be false.

Everyone is astonished and horrified. But Mr. Liar giggles to himself and just can't help laughing.

"HA HA HA HA, you all fell for it, HA HA HA HA I can't stop laughing". Everyone looked at Mr. Liar in confusion and couldn't understand the world anymore.

But what does Mr. Liar prefer to do than lie? Right!
Nothing!

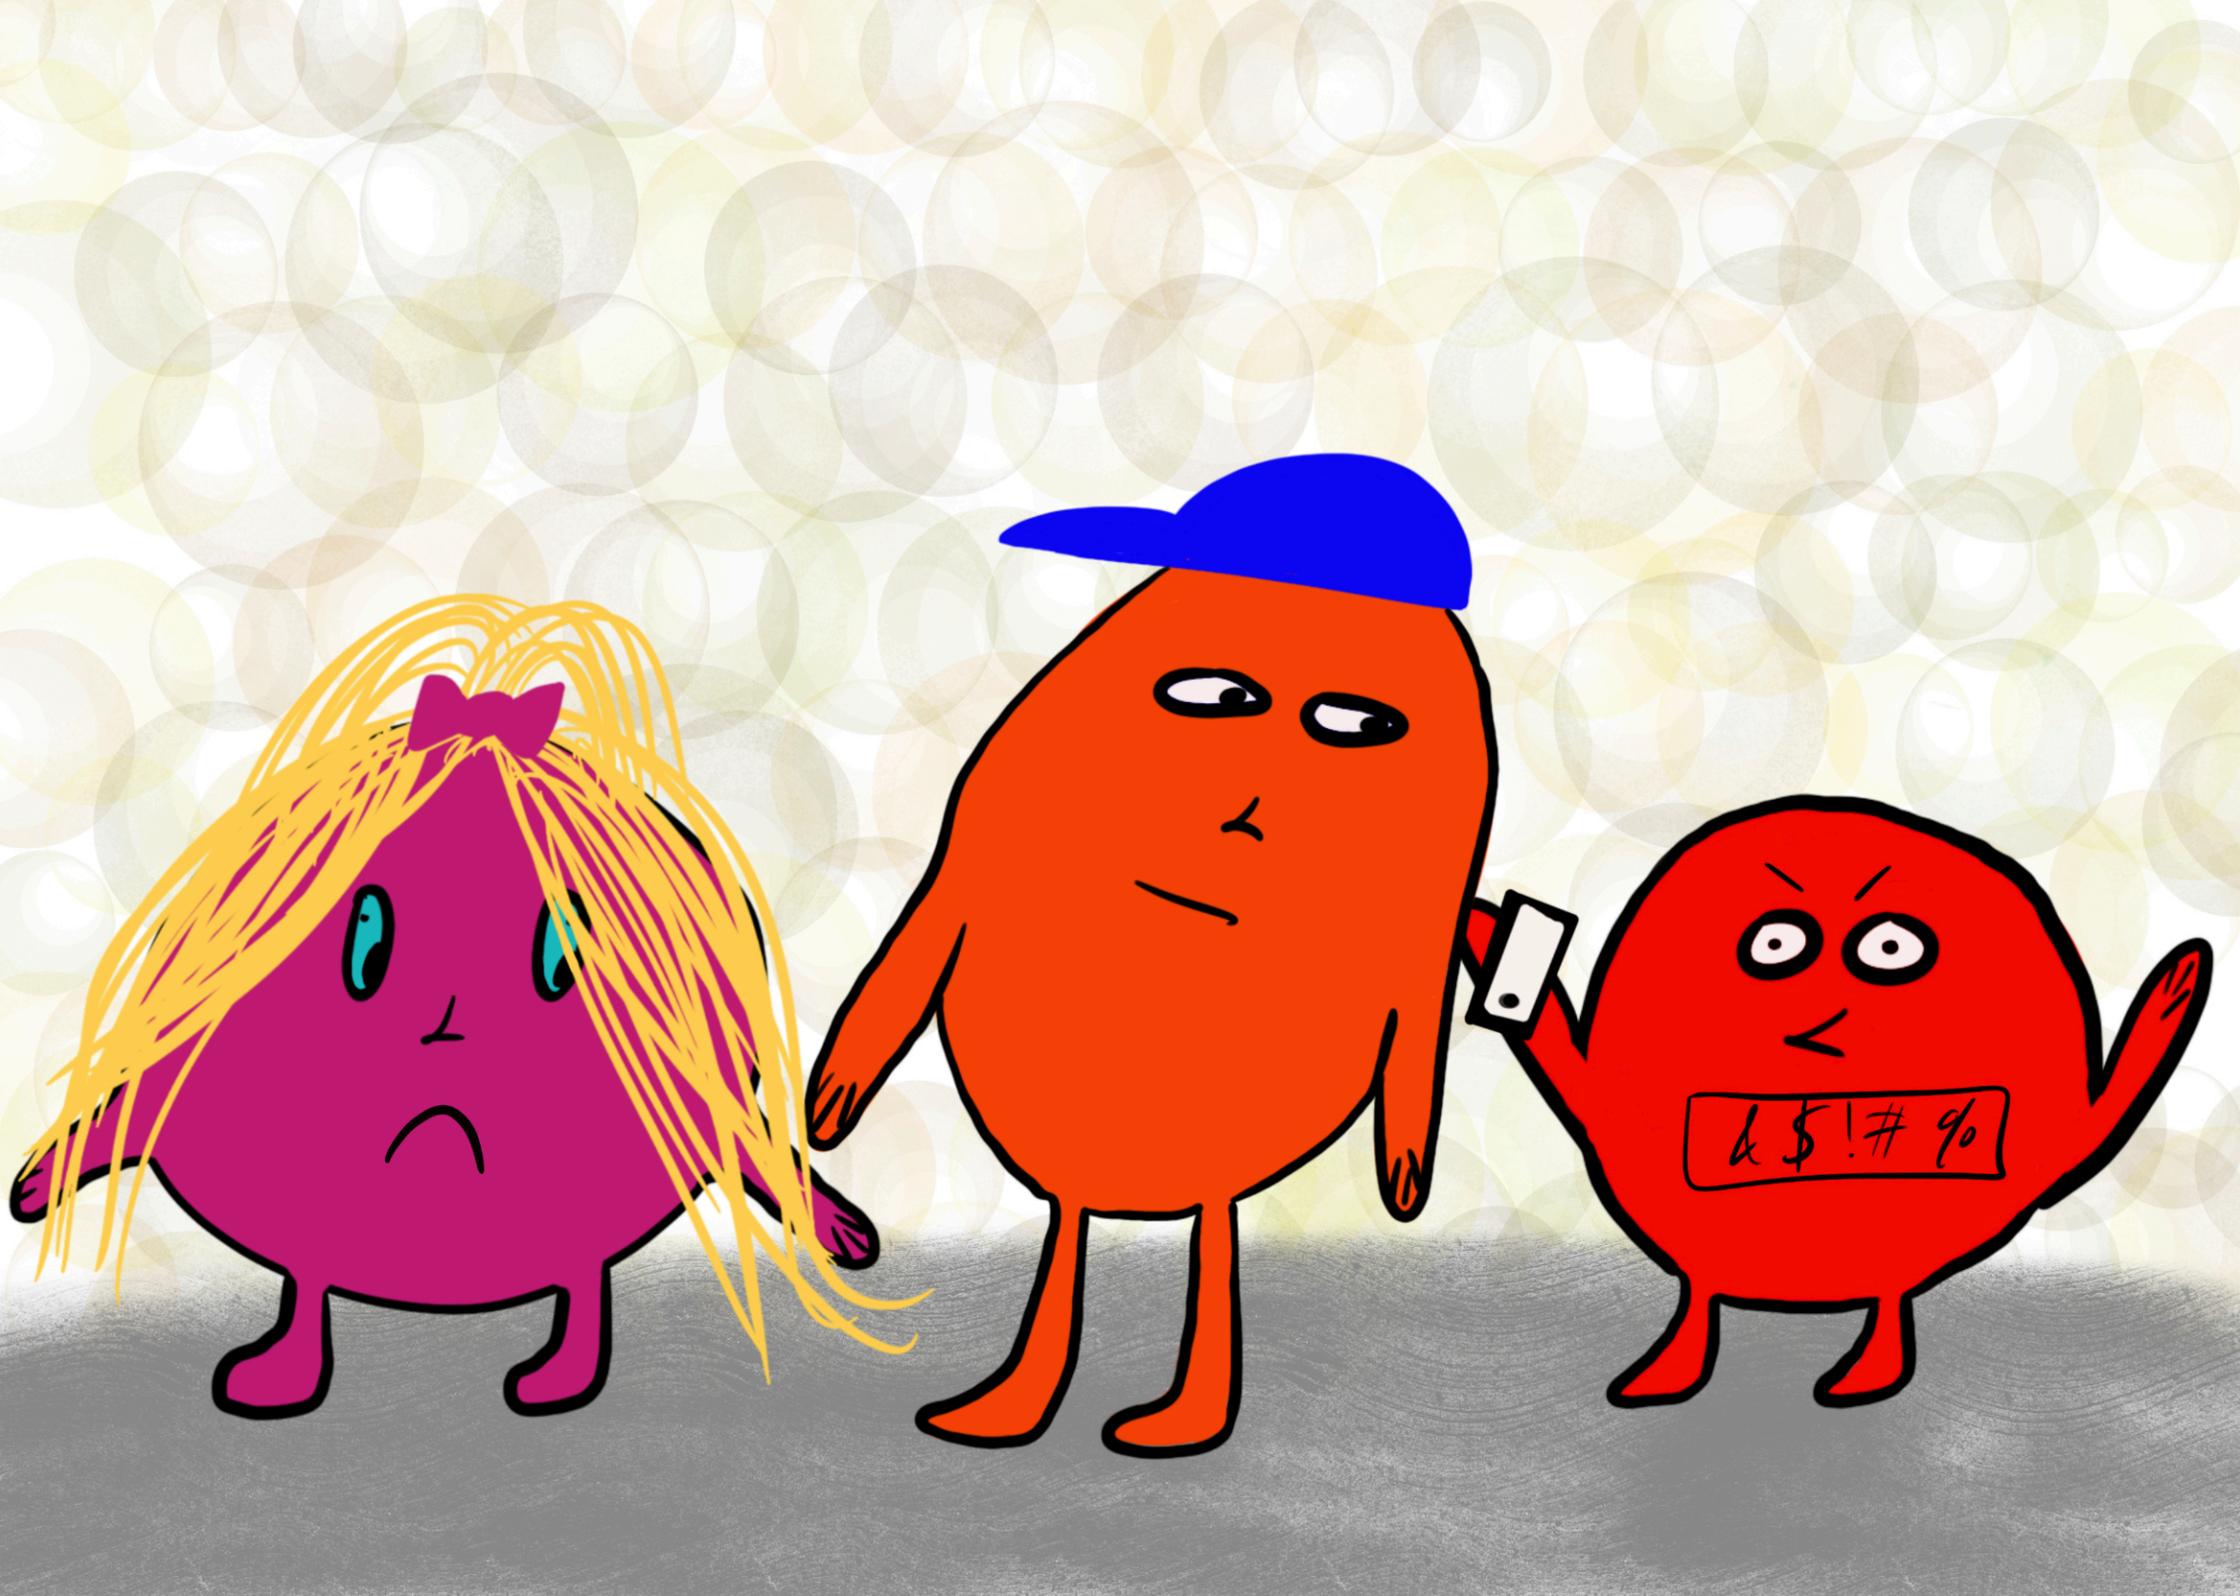

"YOU spread all the fake news on the internet, didn't you? That little Miss Happy is dead? That Russia now wants to attack Germany and also that little Miss Sporty has become fat? You're really mean!" said little Miss Gullible horrified. "Why?, it was so much fun fooling you guys! HAHAHA" said Mr. Liar while still laughing.

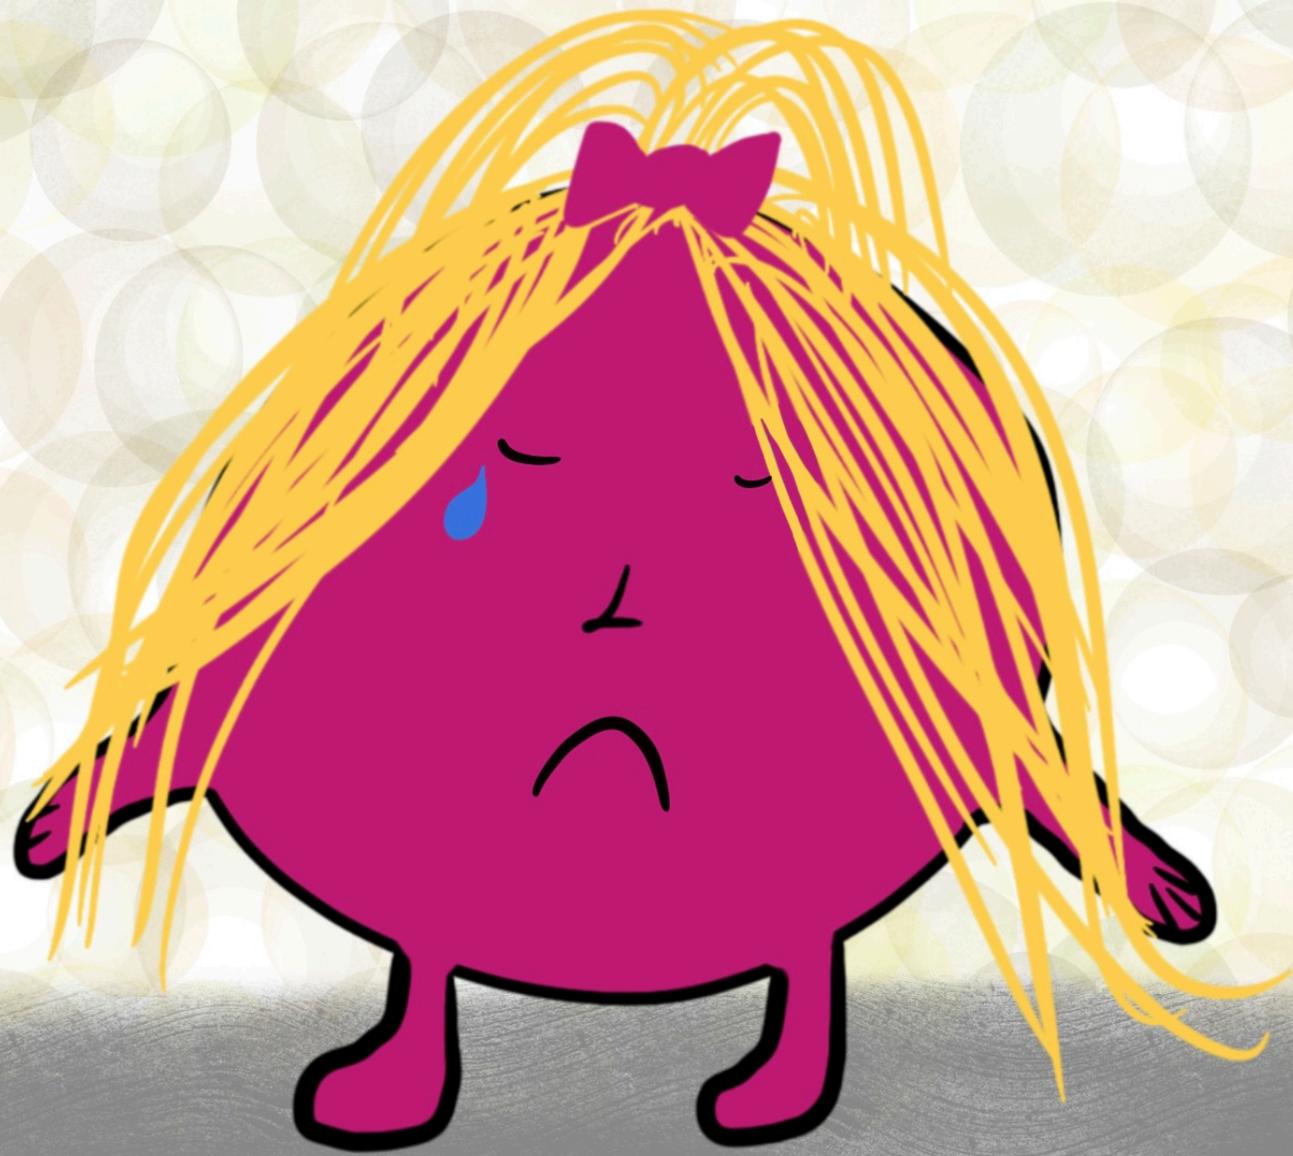

Mr. Helper walks up to Mr. Liar and tells him: "That is not okay what you did. You have scared the hell out of a lot of people and that is not something you should do."

"But wasn't it little Miss Gullible who believed everything immediately and told it everyone right away? I don't think she's innocent at all." replies Mr. Liar.

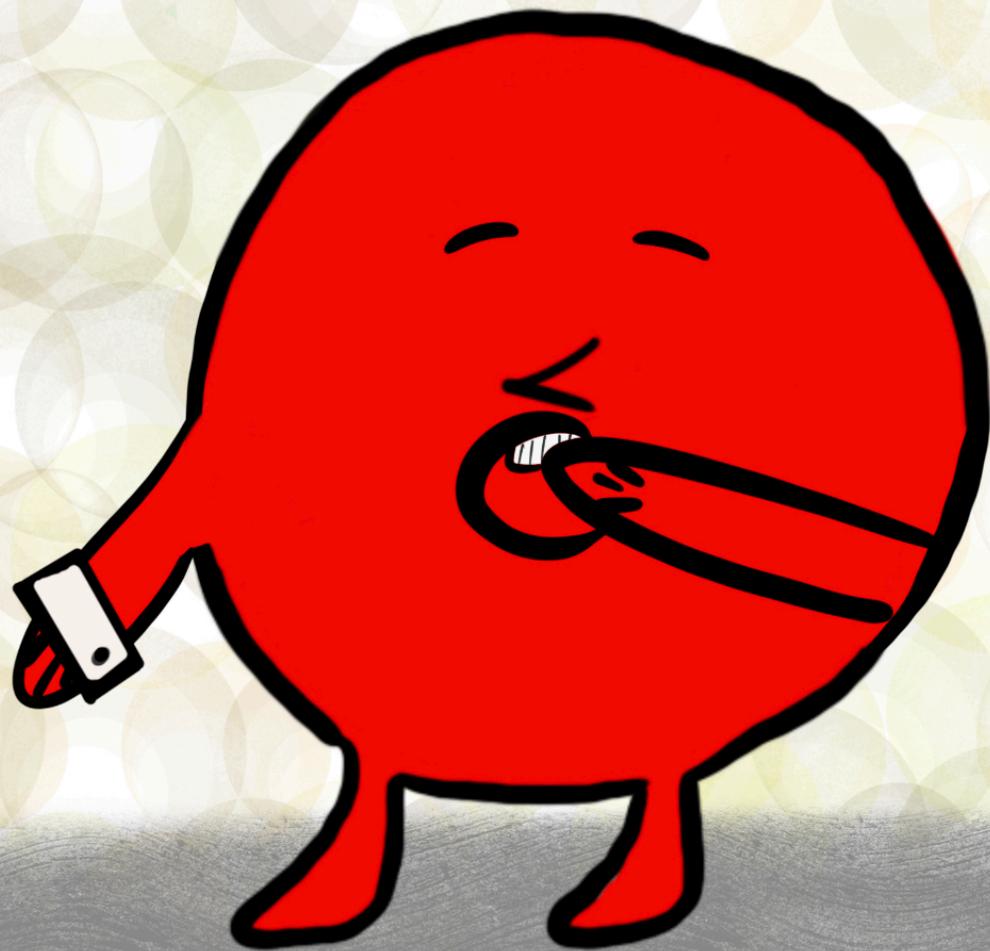

"Mr. Liar is right. I should have done more research before telling everyone right away and believing it to be true. I shouldn't have scared you all like that. I'm sorry." Apologises little Miss Gullible. It doesn't happen often that little Miss Gullible realises her own gullibility.

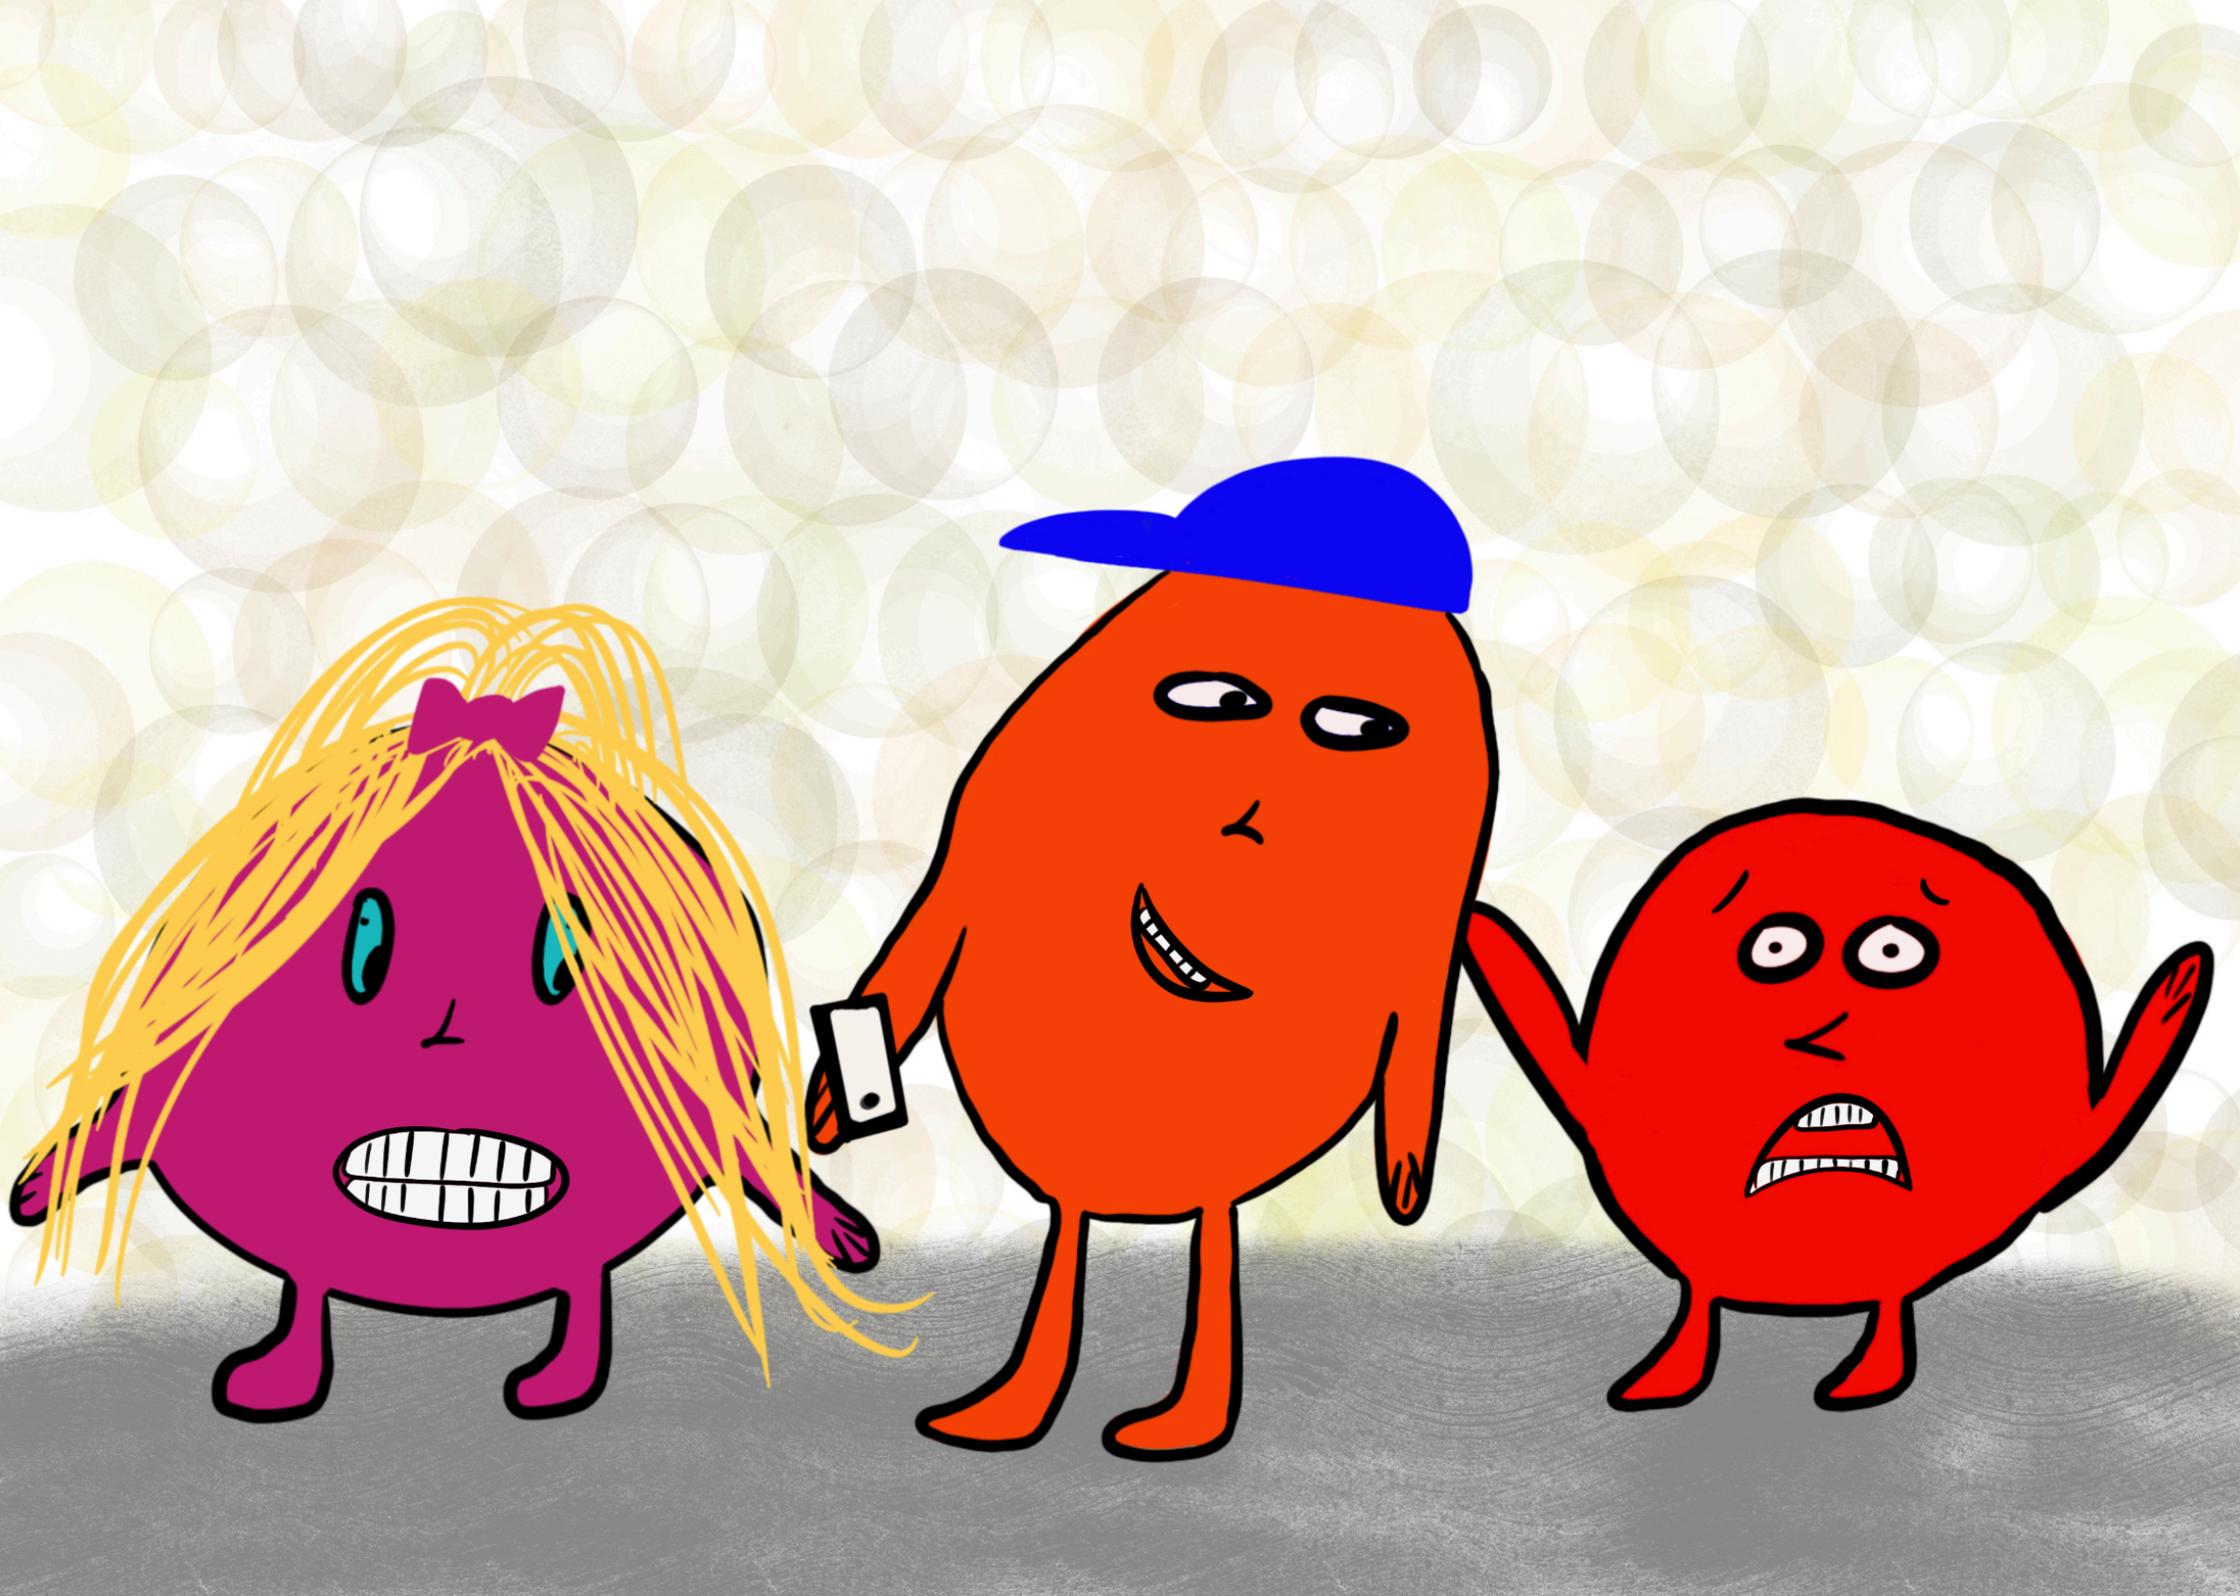

Mr. Liar on the other hand, does not care about his mistakes. He enjoys lying and doesn't feel the need to apologise for spreading fake news.

"I don't care if it's stupid or not! I'm enjoying it and I'm going to keep on doing it", says Mr. liar convinced

"I guess we have no other choice but to cut you off from the Internet" said Mr. Helper and takes away Mr. Liar's phone.

"Before he gets this back, he has to learn how to use the Internet properly just like you little Miss Gullible. I will send you to little Miss Smart. She's going to show you how to do it."

And the moral of the story is, on the one hand, not to be as gullible as little Miss Gullible.

There are a lot of news on the internet and it circulates a lot. Whether it's something political or something on social media about friends, influencer...etc.

You can never tell from the start if it's fake news or not. BUT you should definitely inform yourself a little more before passing on information without the needed background knowledge, because this can end very badly.

On the other hand, there are a lot of people like Mr. Liar who simply put all kind of things on the internet and sell them as true.

They just want to irritate and provoke the society. Sometimes they also want to make propaganda and make people panic and fear.

Do not be like little Miss Gullible or Mr. Liar. Do your research before spreading things in public and don't spread false information because that never ends well either.
